RUMIDITY 100 PER CENT.

A sharp thunder shower yesterday ternoon, attended by lightning, caused considerable damage in and about New York. The lightning came as a climax to the most uncomfortable taste of summer heat the city has had this year. As usual it wasn't the temperature but the humidity that made almost every one uncomfortable. And the humidity in the early part of the day was 100 per cent. That is, the air was fully saturated, holding as much water as it could possibly carry. In the afternoon many persons were irresistibly impelled to the conclusion that the air held more water than it could carry.

Even after the shower the humidity stuck around 90 per cent., but a cool breeze springing up from the southwest made things seem more pleasant.

The Weather To-day. The forecast of the Government

Weather Bureau is: Cloudy to-day and 75 degrees at 2:15 P. M., just before the shower, dropped to 68 degrees by 3 c'clock. The shower was recorded at the Weather Bureau's local office as a fall of fifty-five hundredths of an inch. Of this, forty hundredths fell in the half from 2:20 to 2:50, which is fast work but not a record. The storm came from the southwest. The day's average
